PRESENTATION TIPS

Network Science Summer
Research Institute, 2019

WHAT MAKES A BAD PRESENTATION?

WHAT MAKES A GOOD PRESENTATION?

ORGANIZATION

1. Introduction (1 – 2 slides)
   - Clear and concise description of the movie(s)
   - Objective/hypotheses/research questions are stated
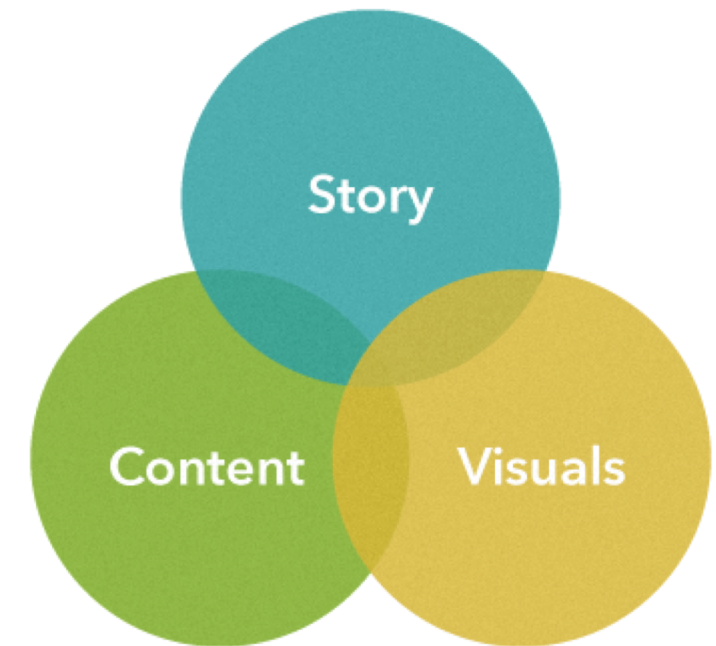

2. Methods (1 – 2 slides)
   - Methodology used to carry out the project
   - Language and packages, software
   - Meaning of measures used (could be combined with results)

3. Results (2 – 4 slides)
   - An unbiased presentation of the results
   - Methods and results are clearly connected to research questions
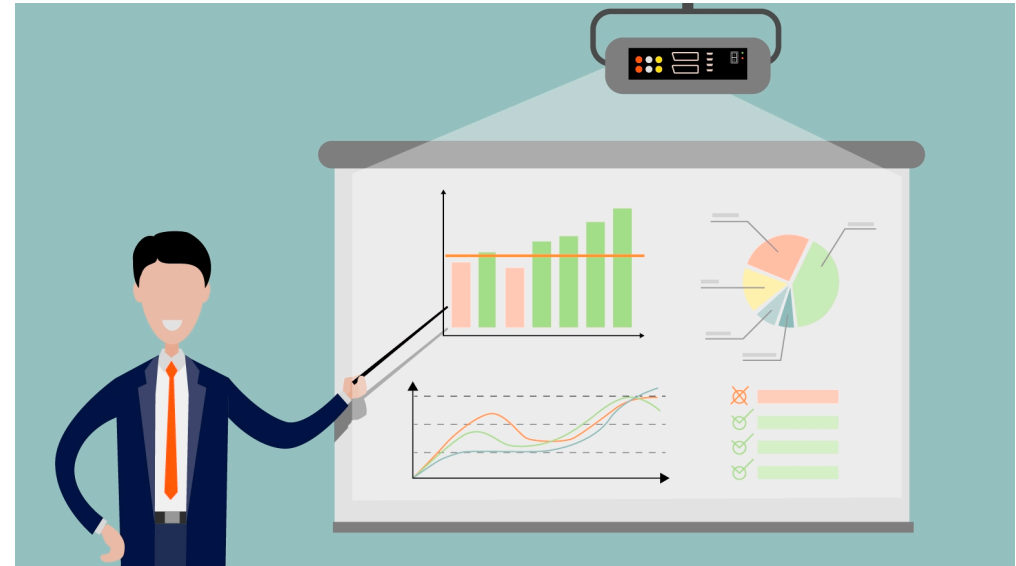

4. Summary/Conclusion (1 – 2 slides)
   - Major findings are summarized
   - Limitations and possible extensions or future work are discussed
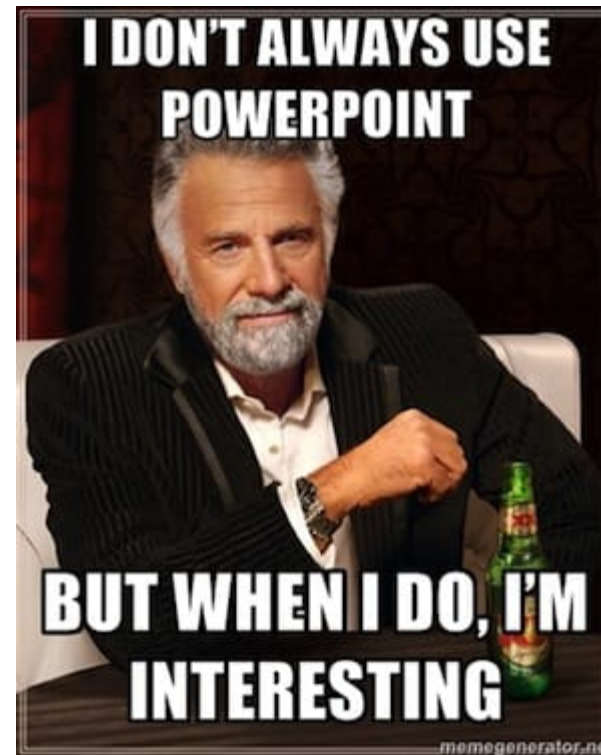

THE SLIDES

- Almost every slide should include a visual (network, table, graph, etc.)

- Bulleted text, not too wordy

- No long blocks of code

- Figures must be labeled

- Use good quality images
